

Ten More Tools For the Tractor Owner

Mechanic's Creeper

Save your bones...work comfortably underneath your tractor.

Radiator Genie

Use this to blow out debris from your radiator to keep your engine from overheating.

Multi-meter

Diagnose and troubleshoot electrical issues. It's incredibly handy.

Heat Gun

Also called a heat thermometer, it can help you pinpoint issues coming from your equipment.

Level

If you don't have one from doing a little carpentry work, buy one to keep your brush hog level and your pasture looking even.

Cylinder Stops

Safety and convenience matter when servicing your tractor. These stops hold the loader up securely while you work on the engine.

Suction Gun

You'll need one when draining fuel out of tanks.

Impact Wrench

The corded ones are essential in the shop.

Roll Pin Punches

Tailwheels on brush hogs are held in place with a roll pin and washer. You'll need the punches if you need to remove the pins.

Lynch Pins

Not a tool, but a necessity for hooking up implements. And there's never enough when you need them. Get a bunch.
